<http://www.2badcats.com/dopboysbasketball/>

Most of the pages on the site are open to the public. However, only authorized individuals can edit information on the site or view certain pages. Rich Unger (412-386-5081 w, 412-833-9477 h, 412-443-5601 c, runger@cdc.gov) assigns the username and password. Contact him if you need an account or have trouble logging in.

Based on your role in the league you have certain privileges on the site, which are describe in the following sections. You can see what privileges you have by looking at the Titles you have listed next to your name on either of the sites Contacts page:

Some teams like to keep extra stats for their team, such as shots tried or rebounds. This can be useful for teaching purposes or as encouragement, such as to point out to a player that while they may not have had many baskets in a game they did have several rebounds or steals. Since it is often difficult to keep the extras stats they are optional and are only computed in the teams statistics for the games they are kept.

Special Log in Account for Players and Parents

If you are a coach for this team, special login information will be displayed on your teams page that you can give to your players and parents (if you wish) to view your teams stats. These login credentials are for viewing your team information only and do not allow any editing of the information on the site. The next image is an example of the team stats for the St. Anne JV Cyclones for the 2007-2008 season. By clicking the book icon next to the date of each game the player could see the score sheet for that game. Clicking a players name in the Stats table would display the players per game stats for the season.
